

Week 3 - Individual Reflections

- What do I want to learn or understand better?

During this week we started to programming which gave us a better understanding of the project how we are planning on implement it. This have led to that I want to learn more about how the android studios work so that I can contribute more and feel comfortable to implement what I intend to.

This week we wrote the user stories for the first sprint and we tried to estimate how many we would mange to do. Our first try resulted in a very small sprint, smaller then expected. This make me want to learn how to estimate in a better way to get as much as possible out of a sprint. I think this will require a lot of training and that will get better for each sprint.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

I think that me and my sprint-partner had a really good way of working during this sprint, and I think that I will bring our way of work to the next sprint. Therefore, I can help my next partner to work in a way that make both of us feel included and that is efficient.

Just by having a lot of contact in the team, I think that we all can help each other with problems that we meet on our way.

- What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

During this week my contribution to the use of Scrum is that I have been active and tried my best when we, together, wrote all of our user stories, tasks and acceptance criteria.

My part of the Scrum board this week was the user story:

“3.2 As a user I want a profile-page where I will be able to see specific information for me so that i can plan my route and save interesting companies” which I did with Tina. We had some problems with understanding how to do what we wanted in Android Studios. By using Google and asking our team members we managed to solve our problems. I think that we had a good way of working and managed to collaborate in a good way.

- What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

This week we have been planning a lot, we have written all the epics for the project and tried to create a lot of the user stories we want to have. We have been doing this together and we have all contributed to make it possible. I have been active during the meetings and tried to contribute as much as possible.

We had our first meeting with our supervisor this week and with our stakeholder. We planned before this meeting what we wanted to get out of the meetings, and I think that we all contributed to make them as efficient as possible.

Me and Tina were partners during this sprint and we manage to complete our user story, which also contributed to our deliveries this week.

This week was the first week that we wrote Team reflections. We all contributed to this. We read thru the questions we had to answer and discussed them together to get a picture of what all team members thought. Then we divided the team into small teams to transcribe it. I was active during this session and I think that we worked in a good way that benefited all. I feel that I have done a good job this week and I am satisfied with my contribution.
