

Week 5 - Individual Reflections

What do I want to learn or understand better?

During this sprint we had a great workflow and it felt like it was our best sprint so far. During our supervision meeting we talked a little bit about design choices, like MVP etc. This is something I want to get a better understanding about to be able to be more active in the decision making in the future.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

This week my us will be about the my-page page, which I been working with before. Maybe I will have a better understanding about how it's build and can help my code partner to understand it.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

Even though we rotate the role of scrum master, all of us are active during the meetings and are helping each other formulating the user stories, task and acceptance criteria. We write the team reflections together and we have a very close collaboration.

My part of the Scrum board this week was the user story:

“5.6 As a user when I've clicked on a company I like to get presented with a page that is dedicated for that company so that I can learn more about that company” which I did with Rebecka. We managed to solve it.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

We have been working together and I been active during all our sessions. We had the same arrangement when writing the team reflection this week, but this week I collaborated with Rebecka.

I have also taken notes during our supervision meeting.

The us we had this week will bring a lot of value for the stakeholder as soon as we connect it in the app, which will be one of this sprint user stories.
