Individual Reflection - Rebecka Jakobsson

I think that it's been a great first week of the course and that it's going to be really fun to work with students from another program. I look forward to getting to learn more about how to work in a project form when it comes to programing since all projects I've done in my years at Chalmers has been part of economical courses. I want to learn more about what it actually means to work with Scrum and how it's to work on an agile project. I also look forward to get to know how to program something that can end up being useful from someone. I hope that I can help the team with the organization of the project and of course by programing. At the same time, I think that the IT students are a bit better at the technical parts but hopefully we will catch up with them during the project. Since we haven't started to use scrum yet I can't say anything about my contribution towards the team's use of it. This week I've contributed with ideas for the project as well as for the social contract. I've also been part of leading the discussions we've had on Zoom to make our meeting more efficient.
